"The Go-Getters"

No. 2 In the Knicker Time"

Synopsis

Peggy Davis, the telegraph operator of Inglewood, has made a decided "hit" with the entire masculine population. Her favorite, however, is Ted Adams, a fireman on the Inglewood local.

Harold Van Cleve, son of the superintendent of the railroad, invites Peggy to a party, but Ted intervenes, and she promises Ted to come and have supper at his home and meet his adopted family, two orphan children whom Ted has adopted.

Harold is very jealous of Ted and when Ted asks him to have certain repairs made in the road, he refuses.

Peggy takes Ted's two charges to a picnic. The train is wrecked, due to Harold's stubbornness, and Ted rushes to the rescue. Peggy realizes that he has saved her life, and that of his two "orphans". Harold, of course, is furious.

The romance will be continued in "And Neyer The Trains Shall Meet", No. 3 of "The Go-Getters".
